

Select Plus plans for California small business

UnitedHealthcare Select Plus plans offer flexibility while encouraging employees to make informed decisions about where to seek care. Members and employers can more easily control costs.

Members don't have to choose a primary care physician (PCP) or obtain referrals for eligible services from specialists. However, Select products promote the value of coordinated care, and we'd like to encourage you to choose a PCP, but, if you need help, we will make a recommendation on your behalf. A PCP can help a member get healthier and stay healthy, identifying, preventing or reducing disease risk factors, managing and coordinating chronic disease care which may help a member have a better quality of life.

Experience greater savings

Members are encouraged to use contracted freestanding (non-hospital) facilities, which are generally more cost-effective than hospital-based locations, for certain outpatient services.

Select Plus plans are designed to:

- Target key medical cost drivers in California to help control costs and lower premiums. The cost of many of these services varies greatly, even though they're provided at the same level of quality
- Enable members to make more informed decisions about location of service by making cost differences more transparent
- Provide members access to a large national network and decision-support tools
